

Wear Your Lifestyle™
Luxury Lifestyle Watch Magazine & Blog

Home | Sports | Features | Watch News | Watch Events | Video Library | Photo Essay's

Top 32 Luxury Diving Watches - Part 1

15
Mar

By Kunal Bajaj & Arjun Sekhri — March 15, 2013

Like 102

Tweet

23

+1

36

Pint

Share

Keeping time while submerged is a tough job and, with diving becoming an increasingly popular activity, one that requires very robust professional watches. There is a kind of beauty to the professional diver's watch that comes from the pure pleasure of engineering excellence. Diving has evolved as an adventure sport attracting enthusiasts from all classes of society.

In honor of the sport, we bring you our exclusive compilation of the World's Top Luxury Diving Watches over a two part Series, in ascending order of price. For further information on how to pick a good professional diving watch, read our article on how to select a good diving watch.

ADVERTISEMENT

About Us

Sea God GMT III

Sea-God offers a vision that honors the culture and tradition of the Swiss watch industry. Technology, aesthetics, fine finishing distinguish a Sea-God product. Sea-God adopted as its logo a traditional symbol, the trident, scepter of the sea's Greek God. The Sea-God GMT III dive watch has a self winding Swiss ETA 2824 automatic movement with a water resistance of 300 m. The watch is 46mm wide and made in steel with rotating bezels. The dial is very attractive with design cues from Rolex. The watch has a domed AR coated sapphire crystal, black enamel dial with applied luminescent indexes with blue hue and a custom adjustable rubber divers strap.

Price - USD 4,671.